③ “The Wizard of Oz”

アメリカ・Kansas州に住んでいたDorothyは、嵐の日に竜巻によって不思議な国へ飛ばされてしまいます。Kansasに戻るため、DorothyはOzの魔法使いに会いに出かけます。途中で出会ったScarecrow（かかし）と共にEmerald Cityへ向かう道中、今度はTin Man（ブリキの木こり）と出会います。彼もある悩みを抱えていて…

The Tin Man was very interested. ‘Can the Wizard give me a heart, do you think? I have no heart, so I can’t love, or feel… I would very much like to have a heart.’

‘Come with us,’ said the Scarecrow.

‘Yes,’ said Dorothy. ‘And then you can ask the Wizard for help, too.’

So they all walked along the yellow brick road. There were many tall trees next to the road, and sometimes the three friends heard noises from animals behind the trees. Dorothy did not like these noises very much.

‘How far is it to the Emerald City?’ she asked the Tin Man. ‘Do you know?’

‘It’s a long way, I think,’ said the Tin Man. ‘And we must be careful because —’

But just then a big lion suddenly ran out from the trees, into the road. It opened its mouth — it had long yellow teeth — and began to run after Toto.

Dorothy was afraid for Toto. She ran up to the lion and hit it on the nose with her bag. ‘Don’t hurt my dog!’ she cried angrily. ‘He’s smaller than you!’

‘I didn’t hurt him,’ said the Lion. ‘Don’t hit me again — please!’

‘Why — you’re afraid!’ said Dorothy. ‘Be quiet, Toto, he isn’t going to hurt you. He’s more afraid than you are. He’s just a big coward.’

‘It’s true,’ said the Lion. ‘I am a coward. Everyone thinks lions are brave. I make a lot of noise, but I’m not brave. I’m just a coward.’ And the Cowardly Lion began to cry.

Then Dorothy told him about the Wizard of Oz. ‘Come with us to the Emerald City,’ she said. I want to go back to Kansas, the Scarecrow wants some brains, and the Tin Man wants a heart. Perhaps the Wizard of Oz can make you brave.’

‘Oh, thank you!’ said the Lion. ‘I would very much like to be brave.’

And so the Cowardly Lion came with them. At first Toto was afraid of him, but very soon he and the Lion were good friends.

That night Dorothy and Toto slept under a big tree, next to the Cowardly Lion’s big, warm body. In the morning they ate the last of their bread.

‘Oh dear!’ said Dorothy. ‘What are we going to eat for dinner?’

‘I can kill an animal for you,’ said the Cowardly Lion.

‘Oh no — please don’t kill anything!’ the Tin Man said. He began to cry. ‘We don’t want to hurt any animals. I haven’t got a heart, but I feel sorry for them.’

Dorothy quickly got out the oil-can and oiled his face.

‘Don’t cry,’ she said. ‘You know water is bad for you.’

They walked along the yellow road, and after an hour or two they came to a big river.

‘Oh no!’ said Dorothy. ‘How can we get across?’

The Lion looked down at the river. ‘I’m very afraid of falling,’ he said, ‘but I think I can jump across.’

‘Good!’ said the Scarecrow at once. ‘You can carry us on your back, one at a time.’

So the Cowardly Lion jumped across the river, first with the Scarecrow on his back, then with Dorothy and Toto, and last with the Tin Man.

But soon they came to a second river. This one was very big, and the Lion could not jump across it. The Scarecrow thought for a minute.

‘Look,’ he said. ‘There’s a tall tree next to the river. The Tin Man can cut it down with his axe. And when the tree falls across the river, we can walk across the tree.’

‘Very good,’ said the Lion. ‘For somebody with straw in their head, and not brains.’

So the Tin Man cut down the tree with his axe, and soon they were all across that river, too.
